The Tasting Room

1. Heading north, the first painting we arrive at is called Back Road to Makena located on the ocean side of the highway, 1.2 miles from the starting point. The painting is a depiction of the entrance to the old road to Makena. It was closed over 20 years ago. It zigzagged through the cattle lands from this point and connected to the coastal road at Makena landing. It took approximately 18 minutes to get to the beach, although it required a car
2. Continuing on, at 1.7 miles we arrive at the site of Lunch in Ulupalakua on the right. Go very slowly. As you enter the curve at 1.8, look up the hill towards the concrete silo.
3. Drive on through the stunning countryside until 4.0 miles. Although now quite disheveled, the plantation house on the right was once a handsome country cottage that appeared in Front Yard Oranges.
4. (For your information, at 5.6 miles you will arrive at Grandma's Coffee House and Ching's Store and gas station. At 5.7 miles; Keokea park, which has public restrooms, and at 5.8 miles; St. Joseph's Episcopal Church.)
5. At 6.7 miles you will come to the site of the painting Gathering Gold. It was painted from the gap in the guardrail on the ocean side of the highway. It is a must at sunset.
6. At 7.1 miles you will come to A Quiet Moment. Look between the mirrors on the ocean side of the road.
